

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is of concern to me.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. It is the responsibility of media to balance the broadcasts on free airwaves. 'Stolen Honor' should not be aired on public airwaves free of charge. But if it is, 'Going Upriver' should be aired on the same stations , at the same showtimes the following week.

License renewals should be much tougher.

Thank you.
